Meet your future employees!

Windcareer – the successful job fair at HUSUM WindEnergy

There are plenty of jobs in wind, sun and bioenergy:

The renewable energy sector is booming, and experts predict that the number of jobs in the industry will double within 10 years, bringing the total to over 500,000.

The demand for qualified personnel is enormous, and in light of the worldwide advance of eco-friendly technology, it will continue to grow significantly. The German labour market is profiting directly from the global renewable boom, especially from wind energy, the undisputed leader of the renewables. And this is a good reason for HUSUM WindEnergy to bring together employers and jobseekers in the professional environment of an international trade fair.
